The business houses will be closed tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., in order to give the clerks a chance to attend the fair.

The musical director of Hopkins College arrived yesterday to assume control of the musical department of the college. Next term begins September 10th.

Our band was out yesterday, acted in summer uniforms, consisting of white helmets and coats and blue trousers with a conspicuous stripe down the side. The boys are improving and will furnish musical selections for the fair.

Ice cream will be served by the ladies of the Madisonville club, in the room adjoining A. D. Sisk's book store. Proceeds to go toward paying off the indebtedness of the club.

Problems to be solved at the fair.

The picnic of the People's party at the Spring Lake park last Thursday was a very successful affair. The attendance was large.

The management was quite good and the ceremonies throughout indicative of the hearty good feeling. Hon. Harvey Brown, candidate for elector in this district, addressed the audience in the forenoon, while Hon. Thomas S. Pettit, candidate for Congress, Hon. John M. Roberts, of Tennessee, entertained the people during the afternoon. It was Mr. Pettit's first speech in the campaign and his friends were eager to hear him. The address of Mr. Roberts was both interesting and amusing. He has a fine voice and an easy flow of words. He was well received by the audience and the way he spoke our Bourbon friends was hilarious in the extreme.

MINING BEES.

George Dockery was taken very sick last Friday with something like neuritis in the head.

The coke works are being run at their full capacity since the trade in coke has become so brisk.

A few days ago with conversing with an old miner, from the Old Country, we were led to believe that the coal produced there was of a superior quality than that of this country. So good was he in the mine of the coal produced over there that even slack coal was far better than the best found in the United States.

To show the absurdity of such a claim we quote from an exchange as follows: In the best found in the United States, the New York correspondence, we note a statement that the cause assigned for the recent remarkable trip made by the Cumberston mine, was that the owners of the mine were persuaded to use a new coal, mined in Wales, and they attribute to this change of fuel the increased speed of their steamer.

The facts are, the Cumberston mine did change their fuel a short time since to the steamer, but the coal they changed to was not Welsh.

But the Welsh coal was not the same as the coal in West Virginia. We have no doubt it will give a "breeze" to the steamer, but it is not the same as the coal in West Virginia. The fact is, the cause for the recent remarkable trip made by the Cumberston mine, was that the owners of the mine were persuaded to use a new coal, mined in Wales, and they attribute to this change of fuel the increased speed of their steamer.

Farms and Farming

In starting a fruit farm get as near to a railroad station as possible to save cost in hauling the fruit, and if a large town is so much the better. The nearer to market the greater the profit. — Mail and Express.

Apple trees trained low are much more convenient to gather fruit from than the old-fashioned sky-scraper, and can be stripped in much less time. Besides, they are less liable to be stripped by high winds.

A farm journal writer says that cats are the most effective anti-rats. Keep a few female cats, feed them on new, warm milk, to counterbalance poison from eating rats. While they are comfortable in the barn, there will be no occasion to worry over the rat problem.

According to The Farm, Field and Stockman, a calculation has been made of the comparative results, from an economical point of view, of the substitution of low grades of fuel molasses for coal as fuel which is now being practiced in some parts of the South.

Stable Potatoes.

In addition to the fact that it is occasionally so destructive to potatoes, the crop is now subject to war. Various theories are advanced as to its cause, but let the primary cause be what it may, experience leads to the conclusion that the occurrence of such depends on certain conditions of moisture and soil, writes a New Jersey farmer, who furthermore says:

While we may have more or less rain than we desire some seasons, one can, by selecting a favorable soil for planting, greatly lessen the prevalence of such, if not entirely escape it. For three years I raised some potatoes on heavy, undrained land, well manured — both stable manure and a commercial one being used together. The yield was a fairly good one, but a great many of the tubers were scabby. For the last two years I have planted on a light open soil, where the rain quickly drains through it, so that in a dry season there is no excess of moisture near the surface. I have used only one kind of fertilizer, the Mapes special potato manure, and have not been troubled with scab. To secure smooth potatoes I would plant on light or well drained soil and use only some good commercial fertilizer. I believe generally that stable manure, and wet soils are both liable to produce scab.

Stick to the Farm.

Said a farmer to the Economist: If I could get $3 a day I'd be glad to leave the farm in a minute. My farm don't pay me $30 a year. I've got eighty acres of good land and decent buildings, and am out of debt, and it's all I can do to send my children to school and make both ends meet. I could do better than that on $300 a year.

National Economy.

We doubt it. Your rent in town would be from $15 to $20 a month or $180 to $240 a year. Nothing will be so easy as to get the air, and a ventilated article that, for even the water will be to be paid for. If you have any children your grocer's bill will not be less than $4 a day the year round. You will do well if you clothe your family on $10 a year. Your carfare, your lost time, doctor's bills, etc., will not be less than $100 a year.

This makes a total of $210 a year which your certain expenses will be, for you own family. But you will have visitors, will occasionally go to opera and on vacations, and if the incidents connected with these pleasures do not exceed $100 a year, you will be fortunate, making the total expenditures $310 a year.

In these figures we have given an estimate of the lowest average expenditure for living as well as you could on your eighty acre farm. Indeed, even in this estimate many little luxuries the farm would permit are not taken into account.

But then, how many city laborers get $3 a day? Very few. The wages will not average $3 a day. And the farmer who has his eighty or two-acre farm under reasonable mortgage will enjoy more comfort on the farm than he will in the city shops, factories, etc.

Stick to your farm.

Capt W. A. Abbott, who has long been with Messrs. Percival & Hutton, real estate and insurance brokers, Des Moines, Iowa, and is one of the best known and most respected business men in that city, says: "I can testify to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, having used it in my family for the past eight years. I can safely say it has no equal for either colds or croup." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington, Tenn. T. Robinson, Morton's Gap, and Geo. King, St. Charles, Ky.

WHISTLE POSTS.

Supervisor John Davis, no doubt desiring to see some good track, paid a visit to the North end last week.

In order to cut down expenses, the telephone offices at Morton's, Greenbrier and Goodrich, were closed last week.

Supervisor Sullivan and three have been making some improvements for the benefit of those who desire to attend the Fair this week.

We are pleased to learn that Matt Draper is now day operator at Nortonville. A better selection for that place could not be found.

(2) To accommodate people attending the Hopkins County Fair, a special passenger train is being run this week from Madisonville to the Fair grounds and there will be work on the extension of the Falls of Rough railroad begun at Fordville Monday.

The cars will be running to Horse Branch before December 1st.

Five of the new engines have been their appearance on this division, and are now being thoroughly tested. Engineer Walter Farnsworth ran one 1.00 miles and it will be pleased with the work done by it.

Some of the boys who have lately taken too freely of the juice of the vine and corn, will, no doubt, realize sometime that railroad companies mean what they say when in regard to drinking while on duty.

Where is the General Manager who handles private committee on the success than Mr. Metcalf? As an evidence, we point you to his late encounter with the switchmen's representation.

It is probably seen by this time that an increase of salary to some of the loss that is only of good position. The company cannot well be blamed, either, when there is so much to be gained for operating expenses.

Section Foreman John Hyman and men had a narrow escape one day last week. They were going to the south end of their section on a hand car, and while rounding a curve about two miles south of Martinsburg, extra 33 struck the car, carrying it several hundred yards on the pilot. Fortunately they saw the approaching train in time to jump and save themselves.

It is no wonder that some of the conductors get mixed up on their reports when we take into consideration the following list of tickets and passengers they have to contend with during their run. Railroad passengers are now classed individually as "first-class," "second-class," "immigrant," "tourist," "vacationists," "family ticket passengers," "drawing room," "mailage passengers," "sleeping car," "editorial," "civic," "com-muters," "private cars," "passengers" at the request of other roads, "commutation tickets to individuals," "dead heads," "free passes," "separate car for colored people."

Below will be seen the result of legislation, who, in many cases, are men in the least posed as regards the operation of a railroad, and therefore not capable of placing a price on the labor performed by such roads. Yet we feel these quite willing to carry what a company shall charge for carrying freight and passengers. It is pleasing to note, that one judge has been found courageous enough to give such an legislation a slap in the face.

The decision rendered yesterday by Judge McCormick of the United States Circuit Court against the State Railway Commission of Texas is of far reaching importance to the railroads of this country. It is declared in effect that it is unconstitutional for any State to enact legislation compelling railroads within its borders to carry goods and passengers at rates which do not permit such roads to pay interest on their bonds. The result of this decision, if it is upheld by the Supreme Court, Washington, will be to add greatly to the value and stability of many railroads passing through sparsely settled sections of territory.

A decided upward movement in the New York market immediately followed the publication of the above.

The majority of the public generally look with favor on a strike of railroad employees, who have justice on their side, so long as they keep within the bounds of the law, but when they resort to mob violence and destroy property and traffic of the railroad, then the public sentiment turns against them and their cause is lost. We believe the following clipping from the Louisville Commercial has the right ring to it.

The public have some right in the railroad system of the country which strikers must be taught to respect. If any of a railroad's employees are dissatisfied with their wages they are free to give up their job, and all of them can do so once, by doing so, they put thousands of people who have nothing to do with arranging their wages, or settling any questions between them and the railroads, to great inconvenience and loss and sometimes to great distress. On this account railroad strikes exert an incalculable and inconsiderable are entitled to very little sympathy from the public. Men who care so little for the welfare of others who do not respect others to care much for theirs. Railroad men who not only quit work but try to impede the operation of the road by injuring its rolling stock, interrupting its track and forcibly preventing other men from running its trains, are active enemies of society, and must expect to be looked on and treated as such."
